Dear APC Colleagues,

As you are probably aware, Academic Professionals of California (APC), CSU Bargaining Unit 4, has been working closely for the past few years with the California Faculty Association (CFA), Unit 3, on many issues of joint concern and areas of mutual support. As fellow University employees, we share a professional commitment to providing quality public higher education that is accessible and affordable for all of our students. We also have a common philosophical belief that by joining together, our two unions can often accomplish a great deal more than we can alone.

Needless to say, recently the labor and management relationship that exists between CFA and the CSU has become extremely difficult and contentious. Despite the recommendations of a neutral third-party “fact-finder,” the CSU has adamantly refused to honor their part of the CFA contract by not implementing previously agreed upon salary increases for the years 2008–2009 and 2009–2010.

We fully understand why our CFA colleagues feel compelled to take a firm stand against this unwarranted and reprehensible action by the CSU. APC stands steadfast with our CFA colleagues, and we shall continue to support them in every legal way possible.

We should always remember that CFA has graciously and generously supported us on many occasions, and now it’s our turn to respond in kind. APC encourages solidarity with our faculty colleagues in their efforts to achieve some small measure of fairness from the CSU.

In union,

Mary Kay Statham-Doyle, President
Academic Professionals of California
