Dear Colleagues,

We have so much to be proud of as a union.

From raises for all faculty and protecting faculty rights to our continued perseverance in seeking racial and social justice for our students and within our communities, we—CFA—are accomplishing so much for the collective good of everyone.

As we enter the 2019-20 academic year, our university system is bolstered by an unprecedented amount of additional funding from the state. Faculty and student advocacy at the Capitol resulted in an additional $654 million, which includes our proposal of $35 million for new tenure-track faculty hiring, and $85 million to increase student enrollment in the CSU.

This year, we will begin to prepare for our return to the bargaining table and will grow our collective strength through our membership. We also will continue to deepen our anti-racism and social justice work in an effort to better connect with our increasingly diverse student body and faculty colleagues.

We are groundbreaking in the work we do, and are inspiring other unions around the country. As we work together to make the CSU the best university system it can be, it makes me so proud to be part of CFA.

Let’s continue to build those connections for power.
